WEAR(E) THE FUTURE

"NAMASTE YOUR WAY, EVERY DAY."

WOLVEN THREADS was founded in 2014 by Kiran Jade, launching with a vision deeply rooted in sustainability and mindful living. Inspired by nature and Eastern spirituality, the company has consistently blended eco-friendly practices with vibrant, expressive designs. This foundation emphasizes both environmental responsibility and personal expression through fashion.

Today, Wolven Threads stands out for its innovative use of recycled plastic bottles to create high-quality activewear and swimwear. Embracing a circular economy, the brand not only promotes environmental integrity but also champions inclusivity and body positivity, making it a beacon of empowerment and inspiration in the sustainable fashion industry. Supported by celebrities like Jessica Alba or Gigi Hadid, which is a clear hint of the brand's reputation.

Their commitment to quality and sustainability has earned them quiet some reputation in prestigious publications like Forbes, Vogue, Health, and People.

WOLVEN THREAD'S REWARDROBE

WOLVEN THREADS offers a wide range of sustainable apparel primarily for women, featuring eco-friendly activewear and swimwear made from recycled materials. Their products, designed for various activities, emphasize quality and sustainability, with a selective assortment for men as well.

Celebrated for vibrant, nature-inspired designs, Wolven Threads aims to inspire and promote body positivity. While mainly catering to women, they also offer a modest collection for men, supporting their commitment to inclusivity and environmental responsibility.

Reverie Reversible Four-Way Top

the subtle side for a classic look or the vibrant Reverie print inspired by Bali for a bolder statement. Made from 84% recycled PET and 16% spandex, this top features a high-neck design with a cut-out, offering both style and sustainability. It's soft, breathable, and quick-drying, with a vegan suede finish and odor resistance. Responsibly crafted from 20.19 recycled bottles, it's as kind to the planet as it is stylish.

Noor Legging

Crafted from a unique blend of 84% recycled PET and 16% spandex, each pair utilizes an impressive 27.61 recycled bottles, making them an excellent choice for the environmentally conscious. One of the standout features of the Noor Legging is the convenient zip pocket. The high-waist design not only enhances your silhouette but also provides excellent support and breathability, keeping you cool and comfortable throughout your activities.

“WOLVEN WEAR, FOR A PLANET WITH CARE“

WOLVEN THREAD'S is renowned for its dedication to sustainability, primarily using recycled materials such as RPET (recycled polyethylene terephthalate) in their clothing. This fabric is made from recycled water bottles, which not only helps reduce plastic waste but also creates durable, high-quality garments suitable for active lifestyles. The material blend typically consists of 84% RPET and 16% spandex, offering flexibility and comfort, making it ideal for activewear and swimwear. This commitment to eco-friendly materials is highlighted by the company's practices, such as opting for sea freight over air freight to lower carbon emissions and using recycled packaging.

Wolven Threads' products are also notable for their functional features like moisture-wicking, quick-drying, and antimicrobial properties, enhancing the apparel's suitability for fitness and everyday wear.

STRETCH BEYOND THE ORDINARY FOR THE GREATER GOOD

WOLVEN THREADS partners with Climate Neutral to offset carbon emissions, engaging in projects like rainforest conservation and landfill methane capture. This collaboration underlines their commitment to reducing environmental impact and achieving carbon neutrality

Additionally, Wolven supports community well-being through initiatives such as donating a portion of their sales to yoga programs for at-risk youth. This initiative supports both physical wellness and mental health, showcasing their holistic approach to community aid and emphasizing their dedication to social responsibility

WOLVEN THREAD'S also promotes sustainability through its "Wolven Pre-Loved" initiative. This program encourages customers to buy and sell used Wolven garments, extending their lifecycle and reducing waste. It supports a circular fashion model, aligning with the brand's eco-conscious ethos.

They hold the OEKO-TEX certification, which ensures that their fabrics are free from harmful chemicals as well as a certificate by Climate Neutral. This certification involves measuring the company's greenhouse gas emissions, implementing plans to reduce these emissions, and offsetting the remaining emissions through verified carbon credits.
